14. a. WOLFF Case: As Headquarters will recall, Wolff has for a long time and a multitude of reasons been a security suspect by UPSWING. The fact that he was a WEIDENKAM staff in 1953 probably first led to his being a risk. However, his role in arranging a meeting between A and Gottlob BERGER in 1957 led to an intensive investigation culminated in WOLFF's arrest on 11 September 1958. He was taken to interrogation both on his activities at WEIDENKAM and his relations with Gottlob BERGER. Particular emphasis was placed on the letters written by WOLFF to BERGER which appeared to contain threats. See EGMA-32877 for a report on these letters. WOLFF was both meek and cooperative during the interrogation, which lasted approximately ten days. He was exonerated of any role in the WEIDENKAM affair and, according to CPETERS, he was able to shed any light on why Gottlob BERGER opened his envelope in a peculiar fashion. He emphatically denied planting anything in the envelope and denied any treasonous activity against the U.S. or West Germany. He did acknowledge that his contacts with A should have been the subject of reports and that in failing to do so his contacts he was not acting in good faith with UPSWING. He was dismissed for this reason. He took his dismissal without protest and appeared grateful when UPSWING offered its assistance in helping him find new employment. We feel UPSWING is at long last free of one more security risk. Insofar as it is impossible for them to terminate WOLFF, we feel the termination was handled in a satisfactory manner. WOLFF will be placed under surveillance from this time on into the future as a precaution but we do not expect to hear from him again.
